River Concession for Arizona

California Admits Right to Revenue Equal to Sum Obtainable by Tax

Talley and Reid Presence Indicates Victory Over Hunt Faction

BY C. A. JONES

THE governor's conference on the Colorado River compact again was at a standstill today while Arizona, Nevada and California parleyed over power benefits to be divided after Federal development on the river.

Arizona and Nevada seek some profit from the proposed Federal plant at Boulder Canyon, and the former State seems to have acceded to the Nevada desire that the benefits should be divided between the States upon whose boundaries the development is made.

Commissioners Matthews and Found, representing California, were called in to the Nevada-Arizona conference this afternoon and again tonight, and the two States won the concession, it is reported, from California that they are entitled to revenue and revenue equal to the amount they would receive in taxes should the project be constructed by private interests.

Nevada was represented by State Engineer Matthews, Commissioner of Public Lands, and State Bank Superintendent Vencill. The Arizonaans were Robert Talley and F. A. Reid, Arizona business men, here to advise and not as formal commissioners, thus indicating their victory, and that of United States Senator Hayden, over the obstructionist tactics of the Hunt faction.

The day was slightly enlivened by a debate before the Denver Chamber of Commerce between Chairman James H. McCuskey, die-hard anti-Southerner of the Hunt cohorts, nothing of particular interest arose at the meeting, each confining himself to arguments, pro and con, on the river, which it is just as easy to plow 1000 acres as one with a machine, and that's the way to do it.

That's the way I figure it. You always get something out of every experience. Everything that happens can be made to yield its good result if you are keen enough to find it. It is just as easy to succeed.

MADRID, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Spanish government today issued a note categorically denying reports that the object of the meeting between Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, and Premier Primo de Rivera at Barcelona is to discuss the tangier question. The only object, the note says, is to extend a greeting to Sir Austen in the Spanish capital.

PARIS, Sept. 30. (AP)—Senator Charles Jonart, 70 years of age, first French Ambassador to the Vatican for the resumption of diplomatic relations with the Holy See in 1921, died here today.

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 30. [To The Editor of The Times:] Mr. Coolidge just talked to the President of Mexico over the phone, everything was pleasant and fine, but wait till Mexico opens their mail tomorrow morning and gets its daily note from Kellogg.

You read about the disaster in St. Louis and what the Red Cross did. No matter what happens or where it goes to happen, they are the first there. That's why everybody in America should belong to it.

FORD GIVES HIS VIEWS ON SUCCESS

Auto Magnate Sets Forth Ideas on How One May Get on in World

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (AP)—Henry Ford tells what he believes success to be and how one should go about attaining it in an interview in the current issue of the magazine Industrial Management.

"Suppose a young man came to you," says Ford, "and asked you for some good advice as to how to succeed. What would you tell him?"

"Now, let's see, what is success?" Ford replied. "Success, as I see it, is the attainment of a goal. The more of the right kind of experiences a man has, the more successful he is."

"That is the way I figure it. You always get something out of every experience. Everything that happens can be made to yield its good result if you are keen enough to find it. It is just as easy to succeed."

ROOSEVELT KEYNOTER

Flays Smith as Tammany Man

Convention Chairman Calls on Party to Keep Governor Out of White House

Republican Platform Makes No Prohibition Reference; Coolidge Cheered

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Sept. 30. (AP)

For the first time in history "the shadow of Tammany lies athwart the White House" in the candidacy of Gov. Smith for the Presidency, Col. Theodore Roosevelt declared today in his keynote address to the Republican State Convention.

He urged New York Republicans to take the lead in a campaign to "dispel" that shadow, asserting there is no such thing as "the new Tammany."

With more than inference, Col. Roosevelt cited Gov. Smith—"the leader of the Democratic party in this State, who aspires to be the nominee of that party for the Presidency"—as the ally of the "same old" Tammany.

"A man must be judged by the company he keeps," declared the temporary chairman of the convention to its first for prolonged applause.

The platform, adopted unanimously, made no reference to prohibition. Gov. Smith's opposition to the proposed constitutional amendment providing a four-year term for Governor with gubernatorial elections held simultaneously with Presidential elections was "condemned as an act of partisan politics."

"We favor the pending constitutional amendment for the election of State officers for terms of four years, of the Senate for four years and the Assembly for two years," the platform declared.

Under the terms of this agreement three negroes in the senior class will be permitted to graduate. Three others will be transferred at once to the Prentiss school and the remaining or other signing the agreement also pledged themselves to forbid any further negro registration at Emerson school. No penalties will be exacted of the strikers and they will not be required to make up lost time.

OTHER DECLARATIONS

The platform also urged ratification of the amendment to provide for the creation of an executive budget.

In general, the platform bears a striking resemblance to that approved by the State convention of the party a year ago. It opens with an endorsement of the administration of President Coolidge, citing among its accomplishments "reduced expenditures, lower taxes, a rapidly diminishing public debt and a rising tide of credit."

The care of disabled veterans has been "humanized," the platform says. The law has been benefited, agriculture and business have been aided, effective steps taken for the advancement of aviation and, through the limitation of arms conference billions of dollars have been saved to the nation's treasury.

By a vote of 92 to 75 the convention concurred in the Democratic nomination of Judge John F. O'Brien for the State Court of Appeals. At Albany yesterday Judge O'Brien received the Democratic nomination.

TROTZKY OUSTED BY REDS

Russian Revolution Leader and Aide Expelled by Communist International

MOSCOW, Sept. 30. (AP)—Leon Trotsky, brilliant leader of the Russian revolution, and M. Vuyovich, one of his chief aides in the opposition fight against Joseph Stalin and the central Communist committee, were expelled from the Communist International today by unanimous decision of the Communist International presidium.

Trotsky was hailed before the disciplinary committee after the discovery of secret printing plants and the expulsion of fourteen oppositionists from the party.

TROZKY RAPS PARTY

Trotsky declared "bureaucratic discipline founded on false political precepts offers no weapon for unity but disorganization and split."

Trotsky in defending his aides, Prof. Alexander Preobrazhensky, M. Shurov and M. Serbrakov, declared: "In their politics these men tower over those who conceal their crimes under party discipline. Nowadays no organization deliberates or decides all they do is carry out orders. Even the presidium of the Communist International is no exception."

Trotsky ended by accusing the Stalin and Bukharin group of placing the question of survival above everything else. He hurled such accusations as "Bolshevik forgeries, Thermidorist policy." He said the Communist International Congress gave the presidium power for one year only and that willful continuance in the exercising of such power mean usurpation.

ACTION EXPLAINED

After Trotsky's speech the presidium passed a resolution for his immediate expulsion. They explained their decision as follows:

"The presidium deems 'Trotsky's and Vuyovich's remaining in the Communist International impossible because of their violent struggle against the organization by means of the underground printing plants coupled with organizing illegal centers and instigating malicious slander against Soviet Russia abroad."

To preserve unity in Lenin's ranks, to counteract the undermining activities of the oppositionist rebels, considering previous warnings sufficient and that to refrain further from disciplinary measures becomes dangerous and impossible, the presidium of the Communist International unanimously decided to expel Trotsky and Vuyovich from the Communist International's executive body."

ST. LOUIS TOLL OF DEAD AND INJURED MOUNTS

Troops Help Keep Streets Clear; Damage May be $100,000,000; Relief Fund Being Raised

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30. (AP)—Work of relief and rehabilitation was well under way tonight as darkness settled over the six-square-mile area devastated yesterday when a four-minute tornado killed eighty-eight persons, injured 600 and damaged or destroyed 5500 homes and business buildings. Late tonight twenty persons are still missing and it is feared a complete search of the ruins may disclose their bodies, thus making the death list 108. The property loss, according to the best estimates of experts who spent the day in the stricken area, is expected to exceed the $10,000,000 record of the tornado of 1895, when 140 persons were killed in an area of ten square miles.

After a careful tour of the path of destruction, a St. Louis Relief Fund tonight placed the minimum of damage done to property of all kinds at $80,000,000 and declared he believes it may reach $100,000,000. It will take more than $100,000,000, he said, for rehabilitation.

The first of thirty insurance adjusters brought here from other cities estimated the damage to between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000. Only one body, that of a woman, was identified

Old Grievance Over Death of Husband Cause

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 30. (AP)—United States District Judge Johnson was shot and seriously wounded by Mrs. Eliza Simmons, as he presided over the retrial of her husband this morning. Mrs. Simmons fired five shots at the judge, four of which took effect.

The woman was seated in the front part of the courtroom, and the judge mounted the steps and across and opened fire. The first bullet struck the judge in the chest, and the second in the side, lodging in a side wall.

FOUR MORE SHOTS
Judge Johnson turned from the woman and stumbled and fell as he descended the steps. The judge was struck in the chest and side, and the fourth bullet struck him in the head, lodging in the back of his head.

Judge Johnson was taken to a hospital where he is now lying. The woman was arrested and is being held in custody. The case is expected to be tried in a few days.

At the County Jail where Mrs. Simmons was taken she said she had intended first to "get United States Senator King."

She is known to have carried a written statement in her purse, which she said she intended to read to the jury. She is now in the possession of Sheriff Patton. He has thus far refused to make it public. The woman refuses to talk to newspaper men.

TOURISTS FLOCK TO BLACK HILLS

Rapid to Spend Night Under Roof of Lodge that Covered Coolidge

RAPID CITY (S. D.), Sept. 30. (AP)—Departure of President and Mrs. Coolidge from the Black Hills after their summer at the State game lodge has been followed by a rush of tourists eager to spend at least one night under the roof that housed the President.

The Presidential suite particularly is in great demand, although many tourists appear content simply to "try out" the chairs.

Wife Sued for Maintenance

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30. (AP)—John F. Logue, 70 years of age, a former Sacramento police sergeant, appeared before Superior Judge Johnson today and demanded that his wife be compelled to pay him $300 a month separate maintenance.

"My wife's worth at least $150,000," Logue declared. "Some of it is money I gave her during our forty years of married life. She kicked me out of my house last April and got a divorce without telling me anything about it. I had her decreed annulled and now I want $300 a month from her. I've had two strokes of paralysis and can't work."

A Dry Democrat opposing a Dry Republican can get nowhere by the nature of things, and the Democratic party must sacrifice the liberal strength and sooner or later pave the way for the organization in the United States of a real and a powerful liberal party.

These are the views of Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, former Senator, floor leader of his party in both Senate and House, and several times the choice of thousands of Democrats for the Presidency.

"I am out of politics," he explained. "I intend to stay out. These are, therefore, what might be termed views from afar."

Senator Underwood was seated on the veranda of his colonial home below Mount Vernon in Virginia—Woodlawn Manor, the gift of Gen. Washington to Nellie Parke in 1814. Below him stretched fields extending to the Potomac River. Mount Vernon was but a mile and a half distant by airplane. Fort Humphreys was just below.

HAPPY WITH TURMOIL OVER
"I am happy here after the turmoil of thirty-two years in politics," Mr. Underwood added, "but naturally I yield none of my affection for my party, or my hopes or my interest in its future."

"I suppose my views on the subject you mention would be put down as prejudiced. Maybe they are. I always have opposed national prohibition through the process of a constitutional amendment. I said I would not believe that when such a party would outlast it would cause us trouble. It should have been left to the States. It cannot be said we have clearly the national purse to proper enforcement. We have poured out millions of dollars."

"Now if it be said that the Eighteenth Amendment is enforceable and we all know that already, and we can get a drink if he wants it bad enough, and we have spent millions in the attempt at enforcement, then you must impeach the integrity of the men who have been responsible for its enforcement during the past ten years. I refuse to do that. Here and there some agents may have gone wrong, but by and large, honest and sincere, and in most instances, capable men have tried and failed, and their failure is a reflection on their integrity."

"I make this explanation of my views because we say as well have it understood in advance that I was opposed to the Eighteenth Amendment. Capt. Hobson and I fought that out in 1914 and Alabama voted 35,000 majority for me. I stood as a presidential candidate on the same issue in 1924 and Alabama Democrats indorsed my stand by 30,000."

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE
"Do you intend by that to deny the reputed overwhelming dryness of the South politically?" he was urged.

"Not at all," Senator Underwood replied. "What I am coming to is this: The Anti-Saloon League is the most powerful organized group in this country. Mind I say, organized group. It is essentially a Northern and a Republican organization. For years its members have been prohibition advocates in the Northern States and almost invariably they have been in the South. They have been and are, moreover, Republicans who need not be expected ever to vote for any dry Democrat."

"The religious and ethical affiliations between those dry Republicans in the North and East and the dry Democrats in the South are such as to reveal them akin in every thought of religion and politics."

Liberal Party Forecast With Neglect of Opportunity

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (Exclusive)—The Democratic party came in to being as the great liberal party.

When it has been faithful to its dedication it has been triumphant. A Democratic nominee in 1928, standing in the square and honestly for a party, is a liberal party. The liberal party of this country is the party of the future. It will be elected.

A Dry Democrat opposing a Dry Republican can get nowhere by the nature of things, and the Democratic party must sacrifice the liberal strength and sooner or later pave the way for the organization in the United States of a real and a powerful liberal party.

TWELVE SUITS ALL YOU NEED

Well-Dressed Man Will Be Able to Get Along This Year on That Many

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (AP)—The well-dressed man this year will have to possess only twelve suits. Fashion experts at the convention of the Chicago Outfitters' Club agreed on that today.

"He must have at least four business suits, a dress suit, a fancy semidress suit for afternoons, a sport suit for walking, a golf outfit and a hunting or riding habit," said Simon Bergman.

"You will be laying the foundation for a liberal party in this country," Mr. Underwood replied. "The Democratic party would be sacrificing for many years to come a liberal following which it has an opportunity to bind to it by the strongest ties possible in politics."

FORESEEN GREAT PARTY
"Now I realize, of course, even though I am sitting down here in the country observing things in the detachment such an environment affords, that people say there is no real basis for hope of a great liberal party in our country."

"I do not subscribe to that, and it saddens me somewhat to have to believe that when such a party does appear it will arise from the ashes of the Democratic party I cherish and respect, and that therefore the Democratic party offers a fitting appeal to the liberal thought of the country."

LARGE TAX CUT PROSPECTS DIM

No Great Increase Foreseen in Federal Income

Only Three Levies Likely to be Reduced

Chamber of Commerce Plans National Referendum

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (Exclusive)—Prospects of any large reduction in the income tax at the next session of Congress are getting less and less as the session approaches. Secretary Mellon is trying in every way to limit any proposals as much as possible. No figures of income and estimated appropriations have as yet been completed for President Coolidge and the exact scope of the government budget figures for the next fiscal year are not completed.

With little prospect of any increased income taxes, with the amount of business in sight for the next fiscal year and with some court decisions calling for large disbursements of income taxes already collected there appears on every side a growing caution against any radical reduction in income tax sources.

One of the most important factors in the recent decision of one of the Federal courts in New York ordering the United States to refund almost $3,000,000 in taxes and costs erroneously collected from the Russell Sage Foundation. The court found that all the money was left over and that therefore the Federal government must refund all the taxes collected with costs. It became known today that about

Unwilling to walk, he tied his glove, covered with his own blood, to his dog's neck. The dog immediately left for camp and led searchers back to the spot where Welch was slowly bleeding to death.

Welch was tied on a saddle horse and brought out of the snow-covered hills, twelve hours after he was shot. At the hospital here it is said his condition is serious, but attending physicians believed today he will recover.

all that will be recommended in the tax-reduction bill that will go to the President for his signature at this session of Congress will be as follows:

A slight reduction in corporation taxes, such as those on tickets and club dues.

No other reductions affecting large or small incomes are now included in any of the several plans for reduction of income tax being considered by the leaders in the Senate or House or by President Coolidge and his Cabinet advisers.

It is indicated that the United States Chamber of Commerce shortly will send a referendum to all its members all over the country to indicate which reductions are the most needed and the indications are here that the referendum will sustain the plan to make the curtailment in the three before-mentioned classes of taxation.

Senators and Representatives now present in Washington indicate they believe that with additional appropriations for the Navy, flood prevention appropriations in the Mississippi, Arkansas and Colorado rivers and other necessary expenditures including the large public buildings expenditure both in the District of

State Narcotic Chief Appointed

Confirmation of the appointment of ex-Senator Benson, San Jose attorney, by the State Board of Pharmacy as State narcotic director was announced this afternoon by Gov. Young.

The post was created by the last Legislature. While holding it, Benson will have charge of enforcing the State's narcotic laws. His salary will be fixed by the Department of Finance, which department also must approve the qualifications of the deputies he names to aid him in his work.

Ex-Senator Benson served in the State Legislature from 1913 to 1921, and during his first session gained considerable prominence by fathering the first bill intended to aid the rehabilitation of narcotic addicts. The bill, however, was killed at that time, but since legislation has been enacted to aid those afflicted with the habit-forming drug evil.

Nine members of the jury voted for conviction when the case went to the jury yesterday and continued to vote that way through the twenty-one hours of their confinement, while the remainder of the jury stood solidly for an acquittal on Mrs. Rogers' insanity plea.

The defendant expressed disappointment as the defense had thought that the majority of the jury was holding out for an acquittal. She returned immediately to her old home in Austin and will go to San Antonio, Tex., at once, where she has been working two positions for some time. Her husband, Harry Rogers, who made his maiden speech before a jury yesterday during final arguments for the defense, returned to comment on the verdict. Harry Dolan, the prosecutor, expressed the opinion that he will obtain a conviction in the next trial, if there is one.

Nine members of the jury voted for conviction when the case went to the jury yesterday and continued to vote that way through the twenty-one hours of their confinement, while the remainder of the jury stood solidly for an acquittal on Mrs. Rogers' insanity plea.

TROJANS FACE REAL TEST IN SANTA CLARA TODAY

BRONCOS DOPED TO GIVE LOCALS GREAT BATTLE

Passing Attack of Visitors and Punting of Simoni Sure to Extend Jones's Eleven

Some years ago, so history tells us, a gang of Greeks stowed away in a horse and invaded the sacred walls of Troy, startling the doughty Trojans well out of their wits. Ever since then, so the bedtime story runs, the Trojans have had little use for horses, colts or other animals of similar lineage.

It is therefore with no little fear and trembling that the Trojans of U.C.L.A. go against the Broncos of Santa Clara today.

The Broncos are very tough and inclined to be stubborn. Holding California to a 14-10-0 count is indicative of something. Probably punch and power, and the Trojans will be very much on their guard when they meet the Broncos.

Two big tackles in the first place Santa Clara has two big, powerful, experienced tackles and any smart coach will tell you that the Broncos are called "The Big Two".

Adam Walsh, the big Bronco tackle, drove his charge into town yesterday and during the afternoon gave them a short workout at the Coliseum. Even our unpracticed eye told us that Mr. Walsh had gathered together a group of exceedingly determined athletes, all of whom are bent on doing something valiant to wipe out the memory of last year's 47-10-0 defeat at the hands of the Trojans.

GOLDSTEIN IS BEATEN BY HUGHES

Cleveland Boxer Carries Away Verdict Over Boston Boy at Hollywood

Tommy Hughes, who hails from Cleveland, where he is feared the rudeness of the many art from Johnny Kilbane, former featherweight champion, walked off with an easy verdict over Harry Goldstein, Boston 112-pounder, in last night's flyweight tournament match at the Hollywood Legion Stadium.

Hughes captured eight out of the ten rounds and out-pointed the Boston fighter all the way. Goldstein earned an even break in two rounds but that was the best he could do against the more clever, harder hitting Hughes.

There were three knockdowns, with Goldstein the victim each time, and all three came in the sixth round. Hughes put Harry on the canvas for a two count the first time with a left hook to the jaw. Goldstein bounced up and was promptly knocked down again by a right to the chin. Harry only stayed down for one this time and was soon dropped for another one count by a left hook. Goldstein weathered the series of knockdowns nicely and was getting in some good raps before the round ended.

Goldstein showed that he is as thrifty as his name would imply: in the eighth, after Hughes had knocked one of his gold teeth out, Harry looked around.

The Yankees got to Tom Zachary for single runs in the fourth and sixth innings to set the stage for Ruth's record-smashing climax.

COMEDY PROVES DIVERTING

Adolphe Menjou Amuses in Subtle Romance of French Boulevards

BY MARQUEE HUBBY

I have always noted in continental comedies that it is not the comedy, "A Gentleman of Paris," which is being shown at Loew's State this week. And who in the world could make a gayer, more debonair boulevardier than Adolphe Menjou?

I liked "A Gentleman of Paris" even better than "Service for Ladies." Menjou's last picture, which was generally considered to be his best in some time.

There is a well-sustained note of deft comedy in the early sequences. The opening night, I imagine, he is riding habit to a formal tea, and he can even slip the grand duchess jovially upon the back, but cheating at cards is simply not done. Menjou is quite worried for a time, but through a clever ruse he proves his innocence.

Menjou, of course, is Menjou. There is no one like him on the screen. Sometimes the sentences of his expressions may prove wearying, but, after all, there is none to do better. If you like a comedy, it is a "Gentleman of Paris."

The picture is a "ruse" and a "service" for ladies. It is a comedy of the sort which is designated as "service" for ladies.

Ruth Chatterton

The play whose mission is to make the Croats a household word. These Croats—Slavic natives of Southern Hungary—will people the Belpaso stage in their picturesque gipsy.

ABE LYMAN COMES TO TOWN

Out of the clouds, as it were, clouds billowing across a scrim curtain at the Boulevard Theater, Abe Lyman and his jazz band came back to Los Angeles last night.

Abe is still Abe, the good-natured leader who held sway at the Uptown for many months; and he is still tossing drumsticks into the air and making them with gay abandon as they come down. It amounted to an ovation, the receipts showed him, and his men, individually and as a unit, last night. The stage was cluttered with baskets of flowers from their admirers.

An old favorite, a "rag" number which brings out the members of the band as soloists each in his turn, won the most insistent applause of the evening. These boys can play, even though they still lack a French horn, and perhaps a couple of other instruments to round out the fullness of their music.

Lyman has brought several performers with him from Chicago: a black-faced comedian, an adagio pair and others. There is no difference perceptible between them and the French and Mexican line of artists, as they will probably be vastly successful.

The screen attraction inaugurating a first-run policy at the Boulevard is "Slightly Used," a Warner Brothers' production which is distinguished for an extraordinarily deft performance by Conrad Nagel. It is a comedy of the sort which is designated as "service" for ladies.
